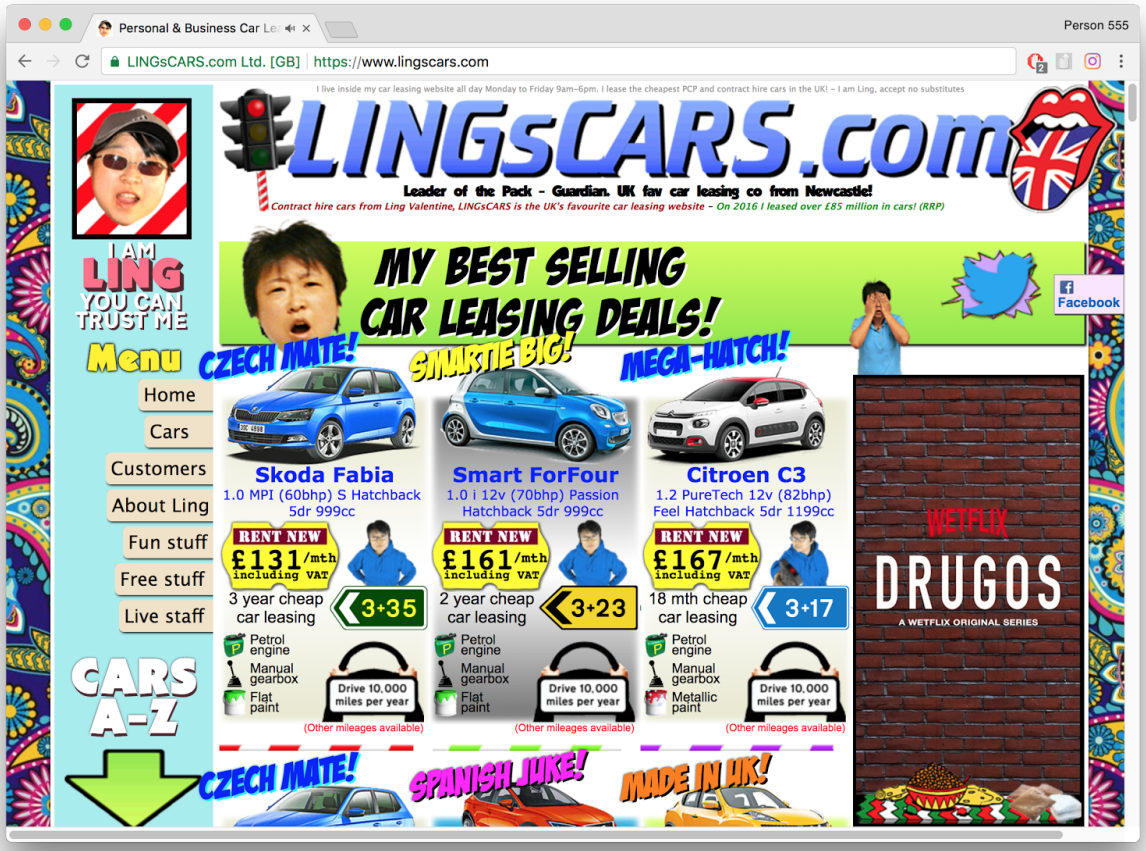
Website Deconstruction



lingscars.com

Brief

Choose a website that you love, hate, or find interesting and give a 5-10 minute presentation which articulates your opinion of the website.

Consider

How is this website similar or different from conventional websites?
Who is this website for?
How do you navigate the website?
How are links treated?
Which elements are interactive, and how can you tell?
What would your first step be in creating such a website?
